Why recycle your old and broken electricals?

Electrical waste is one of the fastest growing sources of waste in the UK. Around 155,000 tonnes of electricals are discarded in the residual 'black bag' waste stream every year and we estimate that around 7 tonnes is discarded in Scilly, that's about 7kgs per household.

Together, we could save CO2 and increase our island's recycling rates, if we recycle our old electricals, instead of discarding them in the residual waste.

How to take part in the collections:

1. Gather up your broken and unwanted electricals that can't be reused.

1. Almost any item with a plug, battery or cable can be collected for recycling, a full list is available on the Council's website.

2. Book a collection.

To book please call the waste & recycling team on 01720 424450, or email zerowaste@scilly.gov.uk.

2. The team will ask you to provide your: Name, Address, contact number & a list of the item(s) for collection.

If you are booking a large electrical collection you will need to make payment for this service. There is a collection fee of £7.50 per large electrical item (or two for £12.50). Our team will assist you at time of booking.

Full terms & conditions are available on the Council's website. Please read them fully before you sign up.

3. We will collect your items.

The Waste & Recycling team will collect your items on your booked collection day.

Please place all small loose items in a standard carrier bag for collection.

3. There is a collection fee of £7.50 per large electrical item (or two for £12.50).

All items, unless agreed otherwise, should be placed at the kerbside by 8:30am on collection day. Large electric items may need a separate collection point, which will be confirmed with you.
