

Dear Planning Team,

Please forgive the email but I leave on holiday tomorrow and am short of time.

Please note the following points with regard to the main Tregarthens Hotel Application.

I would hope that no approval is given until a full archaeological survey has been carried out.

I also find the letter from Defra concerning and hope a full assessment of the impact of the plans upon the water and sewage system(Mermaid Run) will be needed and carried out before approval.

I would hope that some sympathetic refurbishment could eventually be approved but find the current plans rather an intensive use of space and would have been interested in your opinion.

I do find the turrets out of keeping and unsuitable for such a sensitive location. They would also impact unfavourably upon adjacent property

Regards Frances Grottick
