Hello,

I would like to write in to support the plans of a rear extension to Roanoke. My sister and her young family live there and they are quickly outgrowing the property. They have looked into buying a larger property but, as most young local families find, it is near impossible to get on the housing ladder here with the cost of buying in Scilly.

They have decided their only option is to improve the property they live in. I can't see how any negative can be taken from this.

I think we should be supporting young local families who are simply trying to better their living situations.

They have twice changed their plans to take on board comments from the councillors and planning officer and I hope that this goes in their favour at the forth coming meeting.

Yours sincerely,

Grace Goddard.
