Dear Sir/Madam

I wish to object to the above planning application for the takeaway van on Holgates Green. I don't understand why it needs to be situated actually on the Green itself.

It would make sense that all the takeaway vans are located in one place, possibly on the other side of the road at Porth Cressa where the other two vans are currently located, or even around by the Laundrette area, also has Well Cross been considered? Well Cross would be far more sheltered and has a large area that the van(s) could be placed with traffic still able to move through if necessary. Equally the road could be closed to traffic when the vans are operating as both sides are easily accessible from either Church Street or the Strand.

Holgates is always used for many functions these days and it would be a shame to change that, also if the van was going over the grass constantly it would end up making it in a quagmire.
