Dear Sirs,

In principal I support Lily's take-away venture, but not in this location. Holgates Green is a much-valued open space appreciated and enjoyed by many people, locals as well as visitors. Street trading on the Green is not appropriate.

Apart from that, I am most concerned that trading is already happening before the necessary planning permission has been given. This seems very wrong and very premature, giving the impression that the decision to grant permission has already been made. This would seem to open the way for other licensed street traders to take up positions without waiting for any necessary planning permission

Yours sincerely, Julia MacKenzie 1 The Strand, TR21 OPT
