Dear Lisa,

Thank you for your reply.

Great that you have reached out to the Home office, if they are aware and supportive of this application I have no objections. If they are not aware, then Dot Surveying are 'up to their old tricks'.

Please see below YouTube clip from a Gloucester City council meeting, as a result the head of planning and numerous councilors resigned. These were all Dot Surveying applications.

This second clip of the fraud features documents from Dot Surveying and their CEO Tom Gallivan.

Appreciate the second video is long and by 'conspiracy theory' types but the fraud is undeniable. If the companies issuing these fraudulent certificates are unwilling to accept liability, it's reasonable that residents should be concerned.

Please treat my emails as a formal representation, given Dot's history they should be barred from submitting planning applications.

Please ensure you receive any Home office information directly from the Home office and not via Dot Surveying.

I'm available to answer any questions you may have.

Best wishes,

Ryan

Dear Ryan

Thank you for getting in touch regarding the application for additional equipment on the mast on St Mary's. Can I ask if you're able to provide us with more information on which to query this issue with the agent? I have sought to ascertain the need for the equipment both with Dot Surveying and the Home Office. Although I'm still waiting for a response from the Home Office, I have had some information from the agent. It would be useful if you have anything more to share.

We have to take applications and the information presented at face value unless any aspect is substantially challenged as incorrect.

Can you confirm whether or not this is a formal representation? We would require your address to log this and your comments will be placed on the public file (include our website). We haven't yet treated this as a representation as you haven't provided an address. But we are more than happy to treat this as a formal representation but please can you confirm?

Many thanks

Lisa

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am a retired telecommunications specialist based on the mainland.

During 2023, I uncovered a fraud by Dot Surveying, where they used a dissolved company that never had any relationship to telecommunications on over 500 ICNIRP safety declarations. These applications were submitted by Mr. Cameron Wilson. I effectively halted their activities in October 2023.

I was alerted to the above application by a concerned resident of Scilly.

I sincerely doubt the Home Office is aware that the ICNIRP declaration has been submitted on their behalf. The plans also suggest that the Home Office is a manufacturer of telecommunications equipment. I would suggest seeking evidence from the Home Office that they are aware of and supportive of this application. If you find a fraud has been committed you should report it to the police, fraud on planning applications is covered under the 2006 Fraud Act.

Should you require any further information or evidence of their previous fraudulent activity, I would be pleased to provide it.

Best wishes,

Ryan
